Elevation 2022

An exclusive opportunity for direct engagement with the industry's newest graduates as well as third and final year students about to embark on their engineering career.

We invite you to participate in the 2022 Elevation event series which will give your organisation a unique opportunity to engage with the engineering industry's newest graduates as well as third and final year students and provide opportunities for your company to connect directly with early career engineers.

Elevation is not your ordinary career expo. It focusses on deepening connections and providing development opportunities for our future engineering pipeline.

In 2021, more than 1000 student and graduate engineers registered to attend our Elevation events across the country and 36 companies registered to participate.

In 2022, the Elevation event series will be held across seven (7) locations nationally - Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane, Adelaide, Perth, Darwin and Canberra.

Why your company should participate:

Participating in Elevation presents a unique opportunity to showcase your organisation and promote your employment opportunities to student and graduate engineers.

The students and graduates who attend these events are proactive and eager to see what's out there and to find opportunities. By participating you will have access to some of the brightest future engineers around and hopefully find the perfect graduate for your next intake.

Students

Promote upcoming internship and work experience opportunities to third and final year student engineers.

Perfect for companies who take on student engineers as interns, vacation placements or work experience.

Graduates

Promote your graduate opportunities to third and final year students and soon to be graduate engineers.

The perfect opportunity to showcase the engineering careers that your organisation has available.

The event will now get interactive with a session for attendees to learn the proper etiquette for enquiring about roles, how to network effectively, how to follow up on applications and more.

The true reason behind the evening. The remainder of the time will be spent sharing with the attendees what your company does, who it employs and the current opportunities available for the soon-to-be practicing engineers – and it's the perfect opportunity for attendees to practice their new found networking skills and work the room.
